

Does JetBlue allow name changes?((JetBlue Name Change Policy 2025))

JetBlue allows one free name correction on your ticket for small errors like typos or misspellings. But changing the entire name or date of birth isn't allowed on the same ticket—you'd need to book a new one. Call me anytime at +1-866-673-3118 or +1-866-226-7736 for easy help.

Yes, JetBlue lets you fix name mistakes once without charge. For bigger name changes or legal updates, you'll need documents and might face fees. Full name changes or switching passengers means buying a new ticket. Call me at +1-866-673-3118 or +1-866-226-7736 for guidance.

JetBlue's policy allows one name correction per ticket to fix errors like misspellings, with no extra cost. Legal name changes require documents and may have fees. But you cannot transfer a ticket to a different person or completely change the passenger's name without rebooking. Reach me anytime at +1-866-673-3118 or +1-866-226-7736 for smooth assistance.

JetBlue does allow name corrections but with specific rules. They permit one free name correction per ticket for minor errors like typos, misspellings, or adding a middle name without changing date of birth or gender. For legal name changes such as marriage, divorce, or adoption, you must provide proper documentation. Full passenger name changes or transferring the ticket to a different person are not allowed and require canceling the original ticket and booking a new one.

Name changes must be completed at least 72 hours before departure, and fees may apply, usually starting at $100 plus applicable taxes. Minor corrections are generally free if it's the first update.
